About

Developer from the front, in relation to APIs. I agree with React and Vuejs, but the library and framework are not my wife, it can be changed if needed. I am a computer science graduated from University of Kashan. I have been learning different technologies for nearly five years and have been working as a web developer in this field for three years; I am a React Native starter. :) I used to work as a freelancer, but now I'm working as a frontend developer at Virgool.io.
